DESIGN AND BROCHURE LIMITATIONS

The CCS Galaxy Coating System is created by hand, on site under varying weather and job conditions. Consequently small variations in colour, texture and geometric precision are likely to occur. For people unfamiliar with the finished product, we recommend that you view jobs already completed by your applicator to gain an understanding of the appearance. Although all efforts have been taken to accurately reproduce colours, limitations of the printing process will cause colours depicted in this guide to vary from the actual job. No reproduction of this brochure without written permission from Concrete Colour Systems.

Important:
We recommend that you use our actual colour sample chips to make your final colour selection.
